About Joseph Oubelkas

Joseph Oubelkas, born and raised in a small village called Raamsdonksveer, in the Province of Brabant, the Netherlands, is a successful IT-engineer, until 2004, when his life takes a bizarre turn. He embarked on a business trip to Morocco, where, without evidence or investigation, he was sentenced to ten years in prison for a crime he didn't commit. Enduring a harsh and unjust life in various prisons, Joseph somehow persevered and built some very special friendships along the way. This story is shared in his book, 400 letters from my mom. Since the publication of the book in 2011, Joseph provides lectures and presentations for public institutions, schools, universities and businesses in and outside the Netherlands. Because of this, he has been able to inspire and motivate tens of thousands people. Following this bestseller, his second book, Health, Love, Freedom, was released in 2014, in which he describes the struggle with a free, but skeptical world.
